Last week you recall we had a story in the paper wherein we stated that the Chamber of Commerce wanted the advice and opinion of local persons as to what further measures to take to get some industry for Fulton. We printed a handy coupon for our readers so that they could send the coupon to the Chamber of Commerce to let them (the C of C) know the wishes of the community in proceeding with their activities.

The fact that the Chamber of Commerce received only six coupons — three signed, three unsigned, only two from merchants — points up a good barometer that indicates, among other things, one of the many reasons that Fulton continues to get bypassed by industry seeking locations . . . WE LACK COMMUNITY ENERGY.

Fulton has everything and yet it has nothing. We have railroad facilities, good water, good tax structure, available sites, etc. . . yet we don't have enough community energy and enthusiasm to blow a gnat off a banana peeling. It undoubtedly took some little bit of thought and energy to send that coupon back to the Chamber of Commerce, so most people just let it pass, hoping that the next fellow would send in the coupon and maybe somebody would do something.

With most business people constantly griping their heads off about the fact that this town is "dying on the vine", only two of them cared enough to assist the Chamber of Commerce by merely letting them know what they were thinking along the industrial line.

As I see it Fulton business people can be divided into three categories:

1. People who are making a comfortable living, would love to make more, and if somebody else works hard to bring more business to Fulton they'd like to get in on the gravy train. But they're satisfied . . . the heck with community spirit.
2. People who are having a hard way to go, would love to get out and bring industry to Fulton, but might offend some of their customers and they'd lose the little business they do have.
3. Then there's the group of enterprising business people, who are operating their business on a progressive nature, work in the Chamber of Commerce, have civic pride, would like to see Fulton grow, and yet cannot get the job done unless they have the cooperation of all the people at least in spirit, if not in energy. This latter group is sadly in the minority, yet they continue to work hoping that something will happen some day.

A glaring example of the frustration group three often must feel about group one happened to us last year. As you recall Fulton had a scrappy and a wonderful little basketball team. They won the county tournament and headed straight for the regional tournament. We were bustin' with pride at the wonderful sportsmanship and their spunk. So we made arrangements at WFUL to broadcast the regional tournament.

In talking with some members of GROUP ONE about making arrangements to broadcast the tournament more than one of them said: "Wadda you going to all that trouble for, they're not going to win anyway." They did . . . and went to the State too!

The same attitude applies when a meeting is called or their help is sought to cooperate in a civic movement. "Aw, what's the use, Fulton never has gotten anything!"

I still claim as Public Enemy Number One the retailer in Group One who, when called upon to donate an item to be auctioned off in the Lion's Club City Park Auction said: "H. . . I haven't got any kids and I don't like picnics." He didn't donate, but the funds were raised anyway.

That's the key to our problem. Too many public enemies . . . and that's just what a fellow, or woman is, who stands by and let's other people carry all the voltage for community energy.

180 Arrested Over Weekend On U. S. 51 Road Blocks

Only Two Minor Accidents Reported During Holidays

A roadblock set up on the Fulton-Union City highway from 10:00 p. m. Friday night until 6:30 a. m. Saturday morning last weekend by Tennessee State Police netted 180 arrests in the 6 1/2 hour Labor Day period, police confirmed this week.

The roadblock covered a portion of the 45-mph zone of the highway, and most of the arrests were made for speeding, stated Trooper Tom Kilpatrick. These were arrested for public drunkenness and several for failure to possess drivers licenses.

A second roadblock from 4 to 9 p. m. Monday night, set up on the same strip, caught an additional 30, most of them for speeding.

Only two minor accidents on this normally-hazardous 11-mile strip were reported for the entire Labor Day weekend, neither resulting in any injuries.

A campaign to raise funds to provide free school bus service to Fulton for certain county pupils in the seventh grade and up went "over the top" last weekend according to local sponsors, but it hit a temporary snag over the weekend.

The campaign was to provide free bus service to a certain area in the Eastern end of Fulton County, on a contract service with a private operator, to carry children to and from Fulton and their homes daily.

The News learned early this week that (in the words of several unnamed citizens) "pressure" was brought to bear on the prospective operator, causing him to abandon plans to run the bus. The "pressure" reportedly stemmed from the office of the County Superintendent of Schools in Hickman, according to local informants.

The News called County Superintendent Darnell at Hickman, who stated that he had attended a meeting at Cayce last weekend, but offered "no comment" on injunction proceedings and on the status of the school at Cayce one way or other.

Seeking to clear up matters for the benefit of many families in eastern Fulton County who need some definite information on the matter, the News did a little telephoning and interviewing on Wednesday, coming up with the following information:

Local businessman: "A meeting was held, I understand, over at Cayce last weekend and the people over there are 'hot' about this thing, because they think it will result in the Cayce grade school closing. This and other pressures has caused the prospective bus driver to abandon his plans."

A Housewife and mother living just outside Fulton: "We still mean to run the bus anyhow, even though it may take 30 days or so to get a permit . . . we'll get another operator."

Local school official: "Cayce does not stand to lose its school, as I see it, unless Fulton joins the County system. When and if that happens, I do not believe the Cayce school would be continued by the County. Although Hickman has apparently sliced the western part of Cayce's territory off, it seems to me that Cayce's best chance of survival depends on the separate operation of the Fulton Independent School district as such. I understand that the proposed bus route this year will not cover any more territory than has already applied for annexation to the Fulton school district."

A Teen-ager Tells His Views Of Current Problem

This article was written by Kellie Lowe, Jr., 18 years of age, and a student at the University of Tennessee, Martin, Tenn. A disk-jockey for a small-town radio station, he is constantly associated with teen-agers, and knows their feelings, their likes, and dislikes. He speaks with the voice of authority.

United Press dispatch, New York, Aug. 23: "One step in combatting youth crime was a decision to publish the names of all juveniles accused of crimes of violence, regardless of their age. In the past, youngsters have been protected with anonymity."

It's heartening to see, that the weak, unprotected, immature adult population is being vigorously protected from the dread onslaught of 13 year-olds! These terrifying demons of death and destruction, swoop down from out of the night, demolishing everything in their path, and leaving a horrifying trail of ruin and pillage! The intimidated, bewildered adult population has fallen prey to their own off-spring.

This is a situation that calls for drastic measures indeed! So let's defame these young incorrigibles! Let's plaster their family names across the front page of every scandal-hungry yellow sheet in town. Give these neglected youths the attention and publicity that they strive for so earnestly. This could be a powerful incentive for bigger, and better crime. After all, who wants their name and reputation linked to a paltry purse-lifting charge? No, real publicity, like that proposed by our officials, calls for perhaps a cold-blooded stabbing, or a public, noon-hour, rape! Nothing so small and trivial as a candy-store looting could even be considered by a young thug with a reputation to protect.

This desperate attempt at curbing juvenile crime points up the impasse that bungling adults have reached. Let's take YOUR boy or girl for instance. Perhaps you remember the little annoying things that children do for apparently no other reason than just pure recognition and attention. Even if it results in a scolding, the wonderful feeling of being recognized more than makes up for this. This same need for recognition (some call it "social-acceptance") is the basis for so-called "juvenile delinquency."

After despairing of finding any acknowledgement from busy parents, themselves often desperate, insecure, the teen-ager naturally turns to those of his own age for this needed acceptance. THIS CAN BE DISASTROUS! I

Each human being is basically an animal. The young of the species are even more obviously animalistic than the adults. As a matter of fact, civilization can be called the process of defeating, hiding, or frustrating those inborn animal instincts. Usually, a teen-ager is less adept at hiding these animal instincts than the "mature", "sophisticated", adult. However, one of the most common fallacies that we hold today, is the one that a person is "mature" upon reaching the age of 21. A few adults at 81 are less mature than some of our present teen-agers. Mere age itself is no barometer of civilization. Thus, the label of "teen-ager" as such, is meaningless as a mark of maturity. But, in our groping for a definitive term, it has been seized upon, and stuck. (Much to the regret of many a respectable young citizen.)

When young people seek each other out for recognition and social acceptance, often the means of finding it, is to revert to the primitive. Young people, less "civilized" than most adults, as yet don't understand, or care, for our complex system of checks and balances known as "law". Unhampered by any immediate restraining hand, the law of the jungle, of brute force, is reinstated. For example, if one needs money, one simply finds someone who seems to have money, and take it! It's really very simple! Anyone that is squeamish, or retains the last vestiges of an adult world, is "square", and is considered fair game for anyone that comes along. To be "square", a person must be a part of the great enigmatic, mysterious, feared, adult world! To be "square", among teen-agers, is the unpar-

Small Farms Can Be Profitable Too, Says KBA

Does today's successful farming all have to be on a large scale, as many are being led to believe? In Fulton and Graves Counties, for instance, the average size farm is somewhere around 85 acres, and we have occasionally heard talk that this acreage isn't large enough to support a profitable family operation.

It was interesting, then, to receive the following story this week from the Kentucky Bankers' Association which provides a little food for thought on this matter of size:

"Every so often those of us who are in educational work have an opportunity to visit outstanding examples of successful farming. Recently we had occasion to be on two farms whose operations impressed me greatly. One of those, in Hart County, was the 70 acre farm of the Paul Smiths; the other was the 40 acre farm of the Henry Kesslers in Green County. In each case the owners were getting enough net income to provide a high standard of living. They were demonstrating that the volume of business does not necessarily depend upon the number of acres in the farm.

"In the case of the Smiths, the business was built around a herd of high producing dairy cattle, supplemented by a good herd of meat-type hogs and a small acreage of excellent tobacco. They enlarge their resources by renting additional acreages, mostly from retired neighbors. On the Kessler farm, a family-operated broiler enterprise alone with a small, but good, dairy herd and a small tobacco base, provides the principal sources of income.

"The successful operation of these small farms require more skill and ingenuity than do the highly capitalized, large tracts. With the small farms it is essential to use high income enterprises, intensive methods and superior management. These farms are the very essence of the American free-enterprise system and it is hoped that they can survive competition from corporation farming."

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

What Labor Day Means To Me

By James P. Mitchell,
U. S. Secretary of Labor

LABOR DAY was originated by Peter McGuire during the last century with two purposes in mind — honor and leisure. It was a day on which to pay homage to the achievements, aspirations, and genius of American working men and women. It was also a time for rest and recreation at a place in the calendar that lacked a major holiday.

To these purposes — in the light of our national experience since Peter McGuire's Day — we may now add a third: RELIGIOUS.

IN THE UNITED STATES it is impossible to celebrate a holiday like Labor Day without recognizing its religious implications. To honor the working people of our nation is to recognize their dignity as persons — and to do that is to assign them a religious value.

For the soul of man is made after the image and likeness of God — possessing the Godlike powers of knowing and loving. In this respect all men are equal. There is no difference between rich and poor, master and servant, ruler and ruled, "for the same is Lord over all." All men must love and respect that human dignity which God himself treats with reverence.

TO SET ASIDE a time of rest is to recognize the creative nature of man — for leisure and creation are related. We read in the Bible of God's mysterious "rest" after the creation of man. "He rested on the seventh day from all his work which He had done."

But aside from such basic reasons, the vast struggle in the world today between powers that would enslave man and powers that would free him leads us to see more clearly than ever before the fundamentally religious nature of our way of life and of the concepts that underlie our society.

AS DID our Founding Fathers, we believe in one supreme, personal God — creator and preserver of the world — upon whom all reality, including man, is dependent. We believe that every man is endowed by God with all these unalienable rights to fulfill a God-given destiny according to his own enlightened conscience and in his own chosen walk of life.

This nature, this way of life, and

STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeaters

"Well, got to hurry back to my desk or I'll be late for quitting time!"

Kentucky Windage

By P. W.

Labor Day has come and gone — and with it, summer has ended, white shoes, straw hats and summer suits go into storage for the winter — school has started, the football season is underway and the golden days of fall are not far off.

If you use coal at the house, now is a good time to survey the coal bin and load up; get your car re-tuned for fall and winter; get out the fall clothes and have them cleaned, and go shopping for those you'll need.

It's so pleasant to plan ahead when you can, like having a freshly-cleaned suit ready to put on for the first chilly day. How few of us, including me, are ever prepared!

The story of the tragic train wreck in Jamaica last weekend, which claimed over 176 lives, brought to light for the first time (as far as I have ever seen) the fact that the world's worst train tragedy occurred in Italy on March 2, 1944.

I believe that I was at the scene of that tragedy in Italy not many weeks after it happened, and I haven't known until this week that it was such a disaster. The story stated that 521 persons were suffocated by deadly coal fumes in a tunnel. Because it happened in wartime, to a then-enemy nation, the full account may not have been revealed before now.

In mountainous Italy, Italian trains often eluded allied aircraft strafing and bombing by hurrying into a nearby tunnel and waiting there until the attack was over. Our allied airmen developed a special technique for handling such cases.

One day we passed such a scene; natives told us that a whole train was still sealed inside the tunnel by the simple process of dropping bombs at each end of it and creating landslides that closed each end with tons of dirt and rock. At the time we passed, apparently no effort had been made to excavate either end. There had been no one around to do the job except children and old people, and they were all intent on their own survival.

Members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Fulton are being given a double treat this week by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rucker of Fulton; they not only get to look at a giant 110-lb watermelon that the Ruckers brought back from a trip to Texas, but they also get to eat it.

Want to win a tax bet. Odds are high that the average person doesn't realize how much taxes he pays. According to Industrial News Review, it averages something like this: A person who makes $3,500.00 ($57.50 per week) per year pays $1,043 in taxes. People who make $4,450 per year (about $6.00 per week) pay $1,425 in taxes. Those who earn $7,500 about $145.00 per week) pay $2,637. These figures are substantially higher than income tax forms indicate because they include a vast number of indirect and "hidden" taxes. But they amount to about one-third of the income a person earns, and illustrate that high taxes are everybody's problem.

Always do right; you will gratify some people and astonish the rest.—Mark Twain.

If people could buy postage stamps on credit, or pay for them at the end of the month, they'd hate the post office as much as they do the utilities, and for no better reason.

40-Year Mystery Still Unsolved The mystery surrounding the strange disappearance and death of the man who gave the world the Diesel engine — the forerunner of the diesel-electric locomotive — may never be solved.

Rudolf Diesel was his name. In 1913, Diesel, then 55 years of age and world-famous, left Antwerp with two friends by channel steamer for England. In London, Diesel was to confer with certain business interests concerning the opening of a new Diesel plant. He and his friends had dinner on the boat, and afterwards they strolled on deck before going to their staterooms for the night. Some time during the night the famous inventor disappeared.

Was he murdered? If so, by whom? And what was the motive? Did he accidentally fall overboard? Or was it suicide? These are some of the questions which have baffled business associates, police officers and detectives for more than 40 years.

Sounds odd, doesn't it, that new highways may hurt your community? Yet just that has befallen certain unhappy cities.

New highways often parallel railroads. If the highway hugs the railroad too closely, the best plant sites are blocked off from the rail transport most industries must have.

When that happens, away goes the prospect of better times, of more jobs and more payrolls to be spent in your community. And lost, too, is a new taxpayer to share your tax burdens.

A little planning can avert this potential disaster. When highways are being routed, be sure an ample strip of land runs between railroad and highway. Then you can offer industry the choicest sites with ready access to both rail and highway transportation.

Is such foresight worthwhile? In the past decade, the Illinois Central has located more than a thousand new industries along its lines. The next decade ought to beat this record. Your community should be prepared to share in Mid-America's growth.

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

Hear Mary-Nelle's program, "My Fair Lady" every day on WFUL at 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Those WISE PEOPLE in New York City in the year 1882 who selected the first Monday in September for a HOLIDAY from LABOR — had the right idea. And the reason for selecting that certain date was because it was midway between the Fourth of July — and Thanksgiving which would give everyone a timely rest after the heat of summer.

The highways around Fulton were positive proof that LOTS and LOTS of people were taking advantage of the long weekend — but LOTS and LOTS of us here at home just stayed in TOWN and "visited" with friends. It was an EVER so good HOLIDAY for us — just being with our families and having friends drop by for a chat — with NO worries of automobile accidents. We are just CONVINCED that it is a DELIGHTFUL way to spend many more Labor Days!

Your Diarist is indebted to the Nell Martin Bradford for this interesting story about a former Fultonian. . . The Rev. Kimball Underwood, Kimball lived in Fulton and attended Fulton High School for a couple of years when his father was here with the Illinois Central. They lived at the Lamb Apartments on Third Street.

In a recent issue of the Louisville Courier-Journal a picture appeared of Rev. Underwood as he was being installed as rector at Calvary Episcopal Church on South Fourth Street in Louisville.

Many of us remember the lovely Underwood family and their young son, Kimball, who was a very outstanding student. For a time he was interested in art and painted many lovely pictures. Marce Bushart is so fortunate to have one of his landscape scenes which is very outstanding for a "young artist" who was just in high school at the time he painted it.

Our congratulations go to the young rector! And we're happy to say, "Kimball Underwood once lived in Fulton!"

Happy days are here again for the Lawson Ropers! Their daughter, Elizabeth Ann Hart and three little girls, Becky, Susan and Nancy arrived in Fulton Saturday and will stay for three weeks. Nothing makes us happier than to have our "children" at home.

And — nothing makes us sadder — than for them to leave. Our son, Don Wright, left Tuesday via plane for Washington where he will spend the night with the Bill Newtons or the Dr. Thomas Callahans before returning to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Wednesday. The little red house on W. State Line Road will "return to normal" again after having been filled with the younger set — from time to time during the past month.

How happy we were to have "visitors" from that group Sunday afternoon. Wendell Norman and Tom Nall. Wendell is here, you know with his wife, Louise, and their NEW son, James Wendell, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hancock out on Mayfield Highway. And IS he the PROUDEST PAPA? (So are we!)

Now, I could write PAGES about our friend, Tom Nall, because — if EVER there was an INTERESTING youngster — TOM is that! But to brief you — Tom belongs to Martin and Emily Nall on Third Street and he is a student at Cornell Medical College in New York City.

He spent the past eight weeks as the "resident physician" of a Duleys and Mrs. Harvey Caldwell. Jack will re-enter medical school at the University of Louisville.

We were so glad to hear the good news today that Billy Browning of Louisville is feeling ship-shape again after an illness. He spent several days in a Louisville hospital and you may well know that all of his family were quite concerned. But we're happy that Billy, Barbara and baby William Hunt were able to spend last weekend in Lexington with her parents.

Another one of our favorite people left town Monday — Ann Latta, who will teach in Clay Grade School in Paducah. This will be Ann's first experience in this profession — but we know that she will be a real asset to the school. Ann graduated from the University of Kentucky two years ago and worked in Louisville for a year. She will teach the third grade. Ann will live with Mrs. R. F. Green at 2500 Jefferson Street. We feel certain that Ann will be home most every weekend — so — actually, we won't be LOSING her completely.

Betsy Whitesell left Wednesday for Belleville, Illinois where she will teach physical education in the high school. And we are just as happy as we can be that both of these girls have chosen the teaching profession. We know they'll have FUN, too! Betsy and Ann are sorority sisters from U. K., you know. Confidentially, we'd like to "sit in" at one of their classes. The conversation would probably go something like this, "Miss Whitesell, will you tell me WHY this HAS to be done THIS way?" And we know that BETSY or ANN will both have the RIGHT answer. Good luck, to both of you!

HERE AND THERE: Edith Gambill left Fulton Tuesday for Abilene, Texas where she will enroll for her senior year at Abilene Christian College. Edith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gambill of South Fulton.

Clara C. Shirley and daughters, Patricia Ann and Martha Sue, of Nashville spent Labor Day weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Collins at their home on Fourth Street. Marvin Phillips has returned to the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. Marvin, a former member of the Bulldog squad is attending the university on a football scholarship. He is majoring in transportation. Marvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Phillips.

The Ernest Hancock home was a scene of gaiety over the weekend. Their guests were Miss Loretta Hughes and Fairy Brian of Nashville, and Mrs. Warren King and Nellie Reynolds of St. Petersburg, Florida.

Ronnie McAllister left last week for Greenville, S. C. where he will enroll in the North Greenville Junior College. Ronnie is entering college on a full basketball scholarship. We remember that Ronnie was forward on the 1956 championship Fulton High Bulldog team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron McAllister.

Max McDade has returned from Evanston, Ill. where he attended a leadership school of S. A. E. social fraternity which was held on the Northwestern University campus. Max was selected as a delegate from his chapter at the University of Kentucky. Universities and colleges from all over the U. S. were represented at this school, which held daily sessions for one week.

Bertha McLeod, home demonstration agent of Fulton County was singularly honored last Wednesday afternoon when the Fulton County Homemakers were hosts for a delightful tea given at 2 o'clock in the dining room of the First Methodist Church. Bertha has recently returned from a trip around the world at which time she attended a meeting of the International Association of country women of the world which was held in Ceylon. Mrs. Edgar Provine and her committee presided at the register.

In the receiving line with Mrs. McLeod were Mrs. Reginald Williamson, Mrs. Roy D. Taylor and Mrs. Hugh Lattus all county officers. Fruit punch, home baked cookies and nuts were served to the guests by the Presidents of the different Homemakers clubs in the county.

The table was covered with a white cut work cloth. A beautiful arrangement of yellow marigolds and pom poms, in a crystal bowl was in the center of the table with two large crystal punch bowls at each end of the table. As the guests were served, Mrs. Jesse McNeal from the Hickman club played the "Indian Love Call" on the piano. Mrs. J. R. Powell sang "My Blue Heaven", and "Alice Blue Gown". She was accompanied by Mrs. McNeal.

Mrs. McLeod, dressed in a lovely all silk Sari, the native dress of Ceylon and wearing a gift corsage of large bronze mums, gave an interesting as well as, informative talk about her experiences on the trip. Her comprehensive account of the meetings she attended in Ceylon was an inspiration to everyone.

A lovely party complimenting Margaret Finch of Fulton and Gene Gibbs of Union City who will be married Saturday morning at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Fulton was given in the Terrace Room here Monday evening.

Hosts for the occasion were employers and employees of the Park Terrace, where Miss Finch has been working this summer. It was a surprise affair for Miss Finch.

For the occasion, the honoree was attractive in a black frock. The young couple was presented a pressure cooker by their hosts.

Guests were served from an attractive decorated long table. The evening was spent informally.

Those present were Miss Finch,

Mr. Gibbs, Mrs. Mary Lou Fulcher and children, Gary and Cathy, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jones, Miss Ouida Jewell, Miss Mary Finch, Miss Wanda Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Dick McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Puckett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freeman, and Miss Farro Wright.

Mrs. Elmer Shaw was hostess to a delightful gift tea at her home Monday afternoon honoring Anna Jean Edwards of Mayfield, bride-elect of Charles Davidson also of Mayfield.

Many beautiful arrangements of summer flowers that were gifts from friends were used in the decoration. Mrs. Shaw greeted the guests. In the receiving line was the hostess the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Howard Shaw, Mrs. Leslie Davidson, mother of the groom, and his two sisters, Mrs. Bill Deaton of Paducah, and Mrs. Connelley Lamplsey of West Viola, Ky.

Miss Edwards was dressed in a sheath dress of aqua blue cupione, cut with a low square neck. She wore a corsage of pink asters, a gift from the honoree. Miss Carolyn Roberts presided at the register, having each guest write in the brides book.

The table was covered in a beautiful lace cloth over pink. A center arrangement of shaded pink flowers in a low crystal bowl and tall white candles in double crystal holders centered the table. On one end of the table was a large crystal punch bowl, two antique crystal compotes filled with nuts and mints graced the other end.

Frosted punch was served by Mrs. Billie Black of Union City. Others who assisted in serving were Mrs. Tommie Bynum of Union City, Mrs. Duane Black of Rives, Tenn., and Mrs. E. C. Myers of Effingham, Ill. All are aunts of the honoree.

Fifty friends and relatives were included on the guest list.

IN NEW BUILDING

The offices, shops and showroom of the King Motor Company have been moved this week to their new building on State Line and Carr Streets. Mollie King, owner, stated that a big "open house" will be planned in the new building when the 1958 Pontiacs are shown.

Miss Edwina Rae Jackson And Mr. John Lee Hyland Are United In Marriage September 2

St. Mary's Catholic Church in New Albany, Indiana was the scene of a beautiful wedding at ten o'clock on the morning of Monday, the second of September, nineteen hundred and fifty seven, when Miss Edwina Rae Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jackson of Louisville, Kentucky became the bride of John Lee Hyland of Auburn Alabama, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emmett Hyland of Fulton. Father Carl Buhmeir officiated at the impressive double ring service.

The beautiful marble altar was banked with large arrangements of giant white chrysanthemums placed at either side of the gold candelabra which held white candles.

The bride wore a lovely informal wedding dress of white silk organza designed with a fitted bodice encrusted with rows of lace; lace also edged the cuffs of the short sleeves; pearl buttons closed the bodice. The voluminous gathered skirt was worn over taffeta. She wore a white straw picture hat and white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a large white orchid surrounded by illusion and tied with satin ribbons.

Miss Jean Ann Hyland, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor. She wore a frock of pink cotton satin designed along shirt-waist lines with rows of matching lace. She wore a shell hat of white feathers and her accessories were white. She carried colonial bouquet of pink carnations mingled with seed pearls. The flowers were encircled with a scalloped lace frill and were tied with double faced blue and pink satin ribbons. Mr. Hyland served his son as best man.

The bride's mother wore a stylish frock of printed silk in shades of blue. Her hat and accessories were white.

Mrs. Hyland, mother of the groom, wore an early fall Franklin original of navy crepe; matching satin bands caught with brilliant buttons ornamented the bodice. A tiny white faille fold outlined the V neckline. The sleeves were bracelet length. She wore a white beaver pill box and navy accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Guentha. The bride's table was draped in a cutwork cloth. A cluster of wedding bells were suspended above the table. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Misses Marilyn and Linda Guentha assisted in serving the guests.

Following their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hyland will make their home in Auburn, Alabama where Mr. Hyland is working on his doctorate in Veterinary Practice at Auburn University. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hyland attended Murray State Teacher's College.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. J. B. Hyland, paternal grandmother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver of Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hyland and daughter, Ann, of Fort Thomas, Ky.

TEEN-AGERS—

Soon however, for those who get the chance, the thrills wear off, the glamor loses its charm, and it is discovered that there IS a way to achieve recognition in an ADULT world. Then, the juvenile is on his way to recovery. That is, if "adults" have not so embittered him against their "square" world, that the very word leaves a bad taste in the mouth. So obviously, the answer is to take that teen-ager, smear his name, hold up to ridicule, place him in penal institutions, and thus make certain that the eventual awakening to "civilization" never comes. We need criminals, and murder, and mugging, to keep the population down. Don't give a youngster a chance, make certain that by nation-wide publicity he is permanently associated with the criminal element. Let's print those names!

happy hickman happenings by joye stokes

A column devoted to the social events of our friends around Hickman. Call Joye at Hickman 2059 for your social news.

Believe me everyone in Hickman did their best to close the door on summer in a big way!

The reason everyone wasn't out of town this past week-end was — they got caught at home by traveling friends or relatives — I can't begin to tell you about all the parties and guests in town this week-end — so I'll just write until my paper plays out.

Couple of the Week
The couple of the week-end award goes to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Amberg of Los Angeles, Calif. who are visiting with his mother, Mrs. Henry Amberg and sister, Frances.

Roland and Sarah arrived Friday afternoon with their young son, Larry, and Tish their teenage daughter. Just in time for Tish to kiss her grandmother and Frances and rush like mad to clean up so she wouldn't be late for a pot luck supper the young men were having at Linda Hale's home on Troy Ave. All the girls were entertained by Joyce Mabry telling about her trip abroad.

Friday night was spent with family and friends dropping in — Ruth and W. R. Butt of Louisville were among the first to greet the Ambergs.

Saturday Duncan Bushart joined the Amberg house party. Then things began to happen for the boys. The never ending stream of friends continued to come and go all day Saturday. — The climax of the day was a dinner party honoring Roland and Sarah given by Frances at Boyettes on Reelfoot Lake where 49 guests enjoyed cat fish and country ham with that good old "red-eye" gravy.

Sixteen couples took Tish over to the Strata Club Saturday night — to show her what a good time the kids always have in Hickman.

Mrs. Amberg was the happiest mother in church for her family filled the entire pew. Leonora Bushart and son, Gerald, joined the Ambergs for Sunday dinner. The Rupert Hornbys entertained the Ambergs with Sunday night supper at the Derby in Fulton. Labor Day was spent at Kentucky Lake — the Ambergs had a family picnic! Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Amberg were happy to have most of their children with them. James and Barbara and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Amberg and children from Evansville, Ind. and Brantly and Betty Amberg of Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Henry Amberg had her children, Frances, Leonora Bushart and Duncan of Fulton and Roland and Sarah and children. A good time was had by all especially the children.

Visitors

Mrs. Charles H. Fethe was hostess to her son, Charles W. Fethe, and his charming wife, Mary Caroline. Her honored guests were her two grandsons, Tommy and James Allen.

The Fethes were entertained with a full night of fun in Cairo, Ill. as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Ardel Fields and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Summers. We are sorry the Fethes had to return to their home in Chattanooga, Tenn. so soon.

The C. M. Walts' home was the meeting place for long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Allen, Anthony of Owensboro, Ky. and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Long of Salina, Kansas. Mr. Anthony is a favorite great nephew of the Walts.

Mr. and Mrs. James Calvin are visiting his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Calvin over the Labor Day week-end. James and Louise have been in South Carolina and are enroute to Lexington where he will soon resume his duties as head of the psychology department at Kentucky University.

Welcome Home

I do believe all the months spent making preparations, getting passports, vaccination shots, planning an itinerary were worthwhile for the Mabrys. They came home this week all full of pep and vitamins. It is wonderful to have them home, and as soon as Nell gets her breath I'm going to ask for an account of their itinerary. Of course I'll pass it on to you.

Susan Hale was certainly missed by all — Susan spent a long Labor Day week-end in Milan, Tenn. as one of many in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bogle. Nancy Bogle entertained her house guests with a party Thursday night.

Happy Birthday

The Bubble Gum and Lollie Pop set had the time of their lives at Biff Barry's seventh birthday party given by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barry at their home on the Union City hiway. Horse back riding was the sport of the day enjoyed by 35 children.

Melinda Travis had her tenth birthday Friday. Her mother, Mozelle Travis, entertained for her with a birthday party and supper at "Happy Hollow". Sandra came rushing from the telephone after she received her invitation to say "Mother at last it is Melinda's time to have a party in the basement!" You see even the sub-teens enjoy "Happy Hollow."

Off To School

Jerry Williams and Herman Lattus are leaving the last of the week for God's Country. They will enter Texas A. and I. College in Kingsville, Oh! to be young again and on my way to A. and I. for it was there Fred and I met and spent two years as care-free college kids. Those boys will have the King Ranch within walking distance of the campus.

NAMED FOR GEORGE
Georgetown, Scott County, was incorporated by the Virginia Legislature in 1799 and named for George Washington. The town obtains its water supply from Royal Springs which produces 20,000 gallons of water an hour. The Springs were discovered and named in 1774 by Col. John Floyd, a pioneer adventurer and surveyor.

NAMED FOR DAUGHTER

Inez in Martin county was slated to be called Eden when the postoffice was established there. When it was found there was already a postoffice in the State by that name, the postmaster at Louisa named the town in honor of his daughter, Inez Frank.

Old Mexico is just a three hour drive away. Corpus Christi and Port Aransas where the fish bite everyday and the big ones never get away is just one hour from A. and I. — Now I must stop before I get carried away and tell ya'll all about the sand, wind, and no rain for seven years! Good Luck boys. I hope we get to see you playing basketball this coming season.

Anyone who stayed away from the Catholic Carnival Wednesday and Thursday nights certainly missed two nights packed full of fun and pleasure. Every child came away from the carnival with their arms full of toys — personally I would like to put my bid in for ya'll to do my Xmas shopping!

Hats off to Cora Lee and Roland Green, for they are the proud parents of a baby girl born Saturday night.

McCONNELL NEWS

Mrs. L. T. Caldwell

Dear L. M.

Your ring is where you put it, when you called yourself hiding it, it is in your house.

Hi Miss Latane,

I have a question I would like for you to answer. We are in East Chicago, Ind. working and trying to pay for a place we bought. I would like to know when are we going to get to come home to stay? And are my daughter and son-in-law going to separate?

Thank you very much
F. C.

Dear P. C.
You will be home to stay in May 1958. No your daughter and son-in-law will not separate.

Dear Patricia,

I was born and reared in Fulton. I get "The News" and always read your page. I think it is very interesting the way you answer questions for people. I wonder if you would help me with some. My little dog lost her dog license tag. I think it is in my back yard. I can't turn her outside without it. Can you give me an idea where I can locate it?

Also, I am a flower gardener and I lost a small hand digger in the yard among the flowers. Just where did it go?

I surely will appreciate your help as soon as you can answer. Please answer in next week's if possible.

Thank you and good wishes to you.
Sincerely
Mrs. A. G. S.

The death angel has passed through our vicinity for two successive weeks. On Tuesday, August 20th, this village was shocked to learn that Mr. Guy Harris, a life-long citizen of this area, had died suddenly from a heart attack. He and his wife have operated a general merchandise store here for several years and we join with his family in mourning his passing. This past week, on Thursday, August 29th, we also lost one of our older citizens in the passing away of Mrs. Arthur L. Harper. Mrs. Harper died from carbon monoxide poisoning as a result of an explosion from an old cooking stove. The explosion occurred around 8:00 a. m. and Mrs. Harper died the following evening at 6:30 at the Jones Clinic, Fulton, without ever gaining consciousness. We also extend our sympathy to her husband, children, grandchildren and other relatives in their bereavement.

your dog. Go back to the doctor and show your receipt and he will give you another tag for your dog. The hand digger is in your back yard but is covered up with dirt and grass; you will find it.

Dear Pat,

I enjoy your letters so much each week. I would love to have your opinion on my problems. Please!

I am married and have a wonderful man for a husband, far better than I am, I am sure. Please tell me why he won't stay at home? Is it my fault? I know there have been other women in his life since we've been married. Please tell me are there now? Will we lose our home? Would it be wise to have a sale and try something else? Or should we go back in business? What happened to a letter I wrote not long ago? Please answer soon.

Pam.

Dear Pam,
I'm sure you and your husband could work out the matter between you if you would sit down and talk the matter over. The reason he doesn't stay home more is as much your fault as his. There is not any other woman in his life; no you will not lose your home, no my advice is to continue on as you now are, the letter you are referring to was never mailed.

Dear Patricia,

I have just read neighbor's NEWS, so thought I would write you a line and see if you can help me. I am not feeling too well. It's my feet and legs. Will I get better and will I be able to work this winter? Should I move from the house I am living in now before I go to Detroit this fall? Will I ever get married again? If so, will I be happy. Thank you so much for what ever you can tell me.

V. M. W.

Yes you will get better and be able to work. Yes I would move before you go to Detroit; yes you will marry again and be very happy but it will be several months before you marry.

Dear Sir:
One Western Kentucky Newspaper - trying to encourage more kind people to ask Good Samaritans For The 3 R's how they, at no cost, may help "ab-cles" relatives or friends - has reprinted the fine article about our program, first published in The Coronet Magazine for August 1957.

Kindly make our endeavor widely known. In our free correspondence school - with our free books and the help of friends having 3rd or 4th grade education - "x-users" soon master The 3 R's at home, in complete privacy. Many grown-ups learn faster than do children in good schools.

Admiral Ion Pursell, Director.

P. S. Part of these data are local: FULTON COUNTY has 1,550 of Kentucky's 250,000 of our nation's ten million grown-up illiterates, mentioned in many newspaper on 17 June 1957. Data are approximate and based, in part, on the "claims" of old people.

It takes a totally rugged truck with tremendous pulling power to climb Pikes Peak to the top without using the road. Yet that's what a Chevrolet pickup did... kept on going up towering grades, over miles-long boulder fields and through the thin air of altitudes up to 14,110 feet. It fought through a "no man's land" that appeared too difficult for any truck. This truck was equipped with the same sturdy components you can get with your light-duty Chevy! See your Chevrolet dealer.

New Dorm At UTMB Will Begin Soon

Bids for construction of the second of four new University of Tennessee buildings were officially requested last Friday, John L. Neely, Jr., director of U-T's physical plant, has announced.

Ready for contract is the new administration-classroom building to be built at the Martin Branch. The four new buildings were made possible by a $4,000,000 building expansion appropriation of the 1957 State Legislature.

The new three-story building at the Martin Branch will house administrative offices on the first floor. The two upper floors will be used for classrooms and other office space.

Of Georgian Colonial design, the new building will harmonize with others on the Martin campus. Daniel T. McGown of Memphis is architect for the project.
